Rosé and the Riviera.

Or a tailored suit and a Swiss watch.

Or the right in-house legal team and the right interim legal consultant.

Some combinations just work.

At AG Integrate we are interim legal matchmakers - connecting distinguished clients with distinguished freelance lawyers and other specialists. We call our approach creating 'pairings of distinction', and by that we mean matching the right person to the right role in a way that feels natural. It's not just about skills - it's about understanding your culture, pace and priorities, then finding someone who fits and can deliver quickly. The goal is a smooth working relationship that adds value from day one.

For over a decade, we've been placing exceptional contract lawyers, legal ops, compliance, risk, governance, company secretarial and other professionals into roles at the world's leading brands. It is a distinctive service, with every introduction carefully considered, handled personally, and built to last. We do everything we can to make the placements we facilitate more than a match - we help you find your perfect match.

Pairings of distinction isn't just a phrase, it's our promise.

Because when the right people come together, remarkable things happen.

Just like Rosé and the Riviera, we create pairings of distinction between interim legal consultants and clients

The AG Integrate difference

Pairing you with the right specialists and the right kind of people

The most memorable pairings are those where everything just clicks. Which is why we find out everything we can about our specialist interim lawyers, and will only ever make an introduction when we're certain someone is a perfect fit for you.

Whether they are a Partner-level lawyer, a newly qualified solicitor or a support specialist such as a project manager, transactional lead, company secretary or forensic accountant, we conduct in-depth interviews to pinpoint their expertise, experience, personality, work ethic and more. Introvert or extrovert; big picture thinker or detail-driven professional; we personally know exactly what roles and teams they'll thrive in.

And it's much the same for our clients. Our team will personally get to know you, your working style, pain points and legal challenges.

Concierge support

What sets AG Integrate apart is that everything is managed in person, from start to finish. We personally interview, recommend and onboard consultants. Once we've placed someone, we check in regularly to review performance, make sure your consultant is ticking all the boxes and is delivering for you. And we'll be on hand whenever you need us

It's a people business, and so personal contact is how we work.

Looking for interim support?

When legal demands grow and your in-house team could use extra support, we are here to find you the perfect interim match for your business needs. Whether your legal team faces a spike in workload, needs specialist expertise to fill a gap or requires cover for staff absence, we'll find you professionals who "get it" - and then get on with it.

Just like a coffee and the sunrise, we can help you find your perfect match.

The details. Small, but important.

Working together

To get the ball rolling, we enter into a straightforward agreement with you - we then look after all the details with our consultants.

Place of work

Our consultants can work wherever you need - at your office, at home, or remotely across the UK. This will be pre-agreed and set out in the assignment details.

Time recording

Your consultant will record time on a monthly basis. This is approved by you so you'll always know exactly where time and money is being spent.

Assignment length

The length of an assignment is agreed up front, with no necessary long-term commitments. If needed, we can arrange extensions to your assignment. And, when the assignment ends, we'll arrange a debrief to get your feedback and discuss any future requirements you may have.

Peace of mind

All our consultants maintain their own Practising Certificates and are covered by Professional Indemnity Insurance.

Rates and invoicing

Before we get started, we will agree an hourly, daily rate or fixed fee, exclusive of VAT. Once the assignment is underway, we will raise a monthly invoice and send this to your chosen contact.

Just like an art gallery and hours to spare, we can help you find your pairing of distinction.

In the words of existing AG Integrate clients...

Really pleased with the AG Integrate Consultant, they are doing a great job and are exactly what we needed. A great fit, just like you said he would be!

I couldn't believe how strong all four consultants were and I would have been happy with being presented with just one of those. AG Integrate nailed the brief perfectly.
