The Africa Technology Business Forum is an annual, one day conference bringing together Africa-focused global technology innovators, business leaders and investors

The inaugural 2016 Forum saw 150 delegates from 11 countries across Europe and Africa converge in London and was featured in the Guardian.

The Forum brings together technology players from established businesses, investment funds and leading consultancies to government agencies, ecosystem builders and startups to foster collaboration and create a balanced discussion around driving growth in the African technology sector.

The key discussion themes for this year include:

- Financial Inclusion - How is financial inclusion driving business growth?
- Value-added Investment - Is the global investment community adjusting their model to suit Africa's specific needs?
- Impact - Does a focus on impact foster or hinder innovation growth?
- Policy - How does policy help innovation ecosystems to develop and technology to scale?

Insightful sessions will be led by speakers and experts from DFID, Global Innovation Fund, GSMA, Tech London Advocates, Africa Business Angel Network, Movement Capital, Ghana High Commission, Airtel, Techstars among others.
