

Promoting and Protecting Investments in Africa

With thanks to the Department for International Trade and all our speakers

The UK Perspective

The future of global economic growth, the last emerging investment frontier

DTI: 80 staff in 23 countries across Africa supporting UK businesses and building bilateral trading performance

Mutual prosperity between the UK and African countries – British firms and British teams to help Africa fulfil its potential

BREXIT will strengthen the trading partnerships between the UK and Africa

Bilateral Investment Treaties

The Irish Hamburger

The Dutch Sandwich

The government view

- Remove bureaucracy*
- Land registration*
- Fostering the right legal environment*
- Maintaining a stable economy*

Promoting Investment

- Invest in infrastructure*
- Partnering with the private sector*

The corporate view

- A stable tax regime
- Corporate governance and bureaucracy
- Government stability
- Good macro-economics
- Affordable power
- Infrastructure*

By 2030, one in five people will be African

- 6/10 of the fastest growing economies in the last decade..
- 1.1 billion people, roughly 16% of the world's population are African.

The challenge – tackling unemployment